Description

With the ArduSimple Magnetic Stand for SMA Antennas you will be able to place your Helical and LR antennas in a better location, not directly connected to the electronics board. This will help you increase the signal reception and the reliability of your wireless connection. Thanks to its low loss RG58 2 meters cable, the improvement on location will have much more impact on performance than the small loss introduced by the extra cable.

Good to know:

- The stand has a SMA Female on the Magnetic Base, and a SMA Male at the end of the cable
